Saint Francis Xavier

We pause to commemorate the memory of the Saint who brought the light of the Catholic Faith to Japan four hundred years ago. It was on August 15, 1549, the Feast of Our Lady's Assumption, that St. Francis first set foot on the soil of Japan and began his wonderful work.

THE

1949

DEDICATION

All of us at one time or another have been given a helping hand by our cheerful librarian, Bro. Edward Sandrock. Though most of us know him only since 1947, when he came to St. Joseph's, yet Japan is not new to him since he had already been appointed to Japan in 1909, after having served several years in China. The First World War necessitated his return to his native country, France. But upon the conclusion of the Peace we again find him in Japan and later in China. It was World War II that made possible his return to St. Joseph's. To Bro. Edward, then, who consecrated himself to Our Blessed Mother and to Her service fifty years ago, we, the senior class of 1949, lovingly dedicate this "Forward" on the occasion of his Golden Jubilee and wish him our sincerest congratulations.

YOKOHAMA

Maria Duce.

June 26, 1949

Dear Graduates,

You have finished your high school studies. You are going forth from St. Joseph's College, a school fixed deep on Christian principles as solid as the rock of ages on which Christ founded His Church, a school maintained by the Marianist Society, an organization of educators which shall last till the end of time. You are going forth into a changing world, torn by war and revolution, vacillating from one ideology to another, always seeking rest and peace but in the wrong way, a world where dishonesty and infidelity reign, where passions are rife and ingratitude the daily bread.

Are you ready, dear Graduates, to face the future staunchly? Indeed, it would be far more pleasant for me to paint a glamorous picture for you, to portray a bed of roses without thorns, a Eutopia where your every wish would be granted gratis. But that would not be truth, and falsehood is not part of our Marianist education.

Your teachers have given you the principles on which you can mold a successful life and a happy death, in which you can find that peace which the world ever seeks and cannot give. The secret of living and dying is Christ, the Life and the Truth, and the way to reach Him is His Immaculate Mother. This is the heritage of a Marianist education; this we have tried to give you—and greater gift can no man give. That you keep it well is our daily prayer and our sincerest Graduation wish—in time and in eternity.

Aloysius M. Loden, S.J.

Anne Katherine Bryden

Anne was born in Yokohama, on February 21, 1930. When asked a question, this popular girl will answer very frankly, thereby indicating the origin of her nickname "Out-right". Anne is an active member of the News Staff since she is one of its editors. After graduation she hopes to go to college in the United States and take up Law. If you were to ask her what S.J.C. needs most, she'd tell you outright, "More activities." To the Freshmen she says, "Take it easy." Her favorite pastimes are reading, dancing and yachting; her pet peeve is narrow-minded people. The following is the quotation she likes best: "Love your enemies, trust but few; Always paddle your own canoe."

If you are an old timer of this city, you may remember a little shaver in the first grade by the name of Larry, who was born in Yokohama, on August 24, 1929. Well, here he is, Senior Treasurer, and Captain of the soccer team. Although the Poet's thought: "Life is real! Life is earnest! And the grave is not its goal," are his favorite lines, yet this quiet, good-natured fellow admits that getting up early in the morning is the hardest part of his day. As a member of the basketball team, Larry says that S.J.C. badly needs a good coach, and also a good heating-system in the gym. "Observe the school regulations," is the advice he gives to the underclassmen.

Lawrence John Da Silva

Johanna Genevieve Fadli

Johanna, our Vice-President, known to her friends as Miss "Necco" or "Jojo", was born in Tokyo, on October 31, 1931. If you were to inquire about her future plans, she'd promptly reply: "Wouldn't you like to know!" Johanna is very skillful with the needle, being an expert at embroidery. Knitting is her hobby; listening to good music and dancing are her other interests. Our Lord's pet theme: "Love one another as I have loved you," brings to light the fervor of our Religious Column Editor. Talking in class is "Necco's" chief failing, and slow-minded persons get on her nerves. The following is her advice to the juniors: "Make up your own mind and stick to your decision."

Masao Satoh

A master of many sports is Masao, who has played on several teams at the American School in Pekin, China. He was left halfback in football, center in ice hockey, and second baseman in baseball. Next to sports, he likes reading novels and seeing movies. As to his future, however, he desires to be an engineer. To all the underclassmen he makes the following very generous offer: "I will give the privilege I have, of coming to school at 9:30, to anyone who is lazy enough to take it." Masao was born in Gumma, Japan, December 5, 1929. After living five years in China, he honestly admits that he cannot speak the language well. In the opinion of this late comer to our class, an active student self-government is what S.J.C. needs most.

A "top" basketball player and co-Captain of the varsity team is Jerry, our popular class President. Since he is a lover of all sports, he was chosen to be one of the sports editors of "Our Voice". His pet peeve is the "201 steps" which contribute to his daily exercise. "Off limits to Allied Personnel," is his favorite quotation. Jerry hails from Omaha, Nebraska, where he was born on April 17, 1931. After graduation he plans to go to college, and later carry out his ambition—to travel around the world.

Thomas Gerald Delaney

Who else but Joyce can find appropriate nicknames which really cling to people, even though she has none of her own? A friendly, easy-going girl is our class Secretary, and "Chatterings" Column Editor, who was born in Yokohama, on September 29, 1930. "Time alone will tell," is her prompt answer when asked her future plans, but college in the States seems to be her wistful wish. Her optimistic personality is brought to light with the following thought: "Every cloud has a silver lining;" but she adds, "Either you do or you don't," meaning: do a thing or don't do it at all. Reading, listening to music, and walking are her pet pastimes. She also likes to witness sports, to do embroidery, and to collect records. Stubbornness is her chief failing; and although undetermined about her pet peeve, she dislikes sleepy people because they are boring.

Joyce Cecilia Mayes

Helena Joy Ueno

Joy, another one of the privileged few to have come to St. Joseph's from St. Maur's, has spent almost all her life in Yokohama. There she first saw the light of day on February 11, 1931. Although she claims to be a mountain climber and a fair ping-pong player, she nevertheless aspires to become a journalist. Our school paper already reflects her ability as one of its editors. Yes, you have guessed it: reading is her hobby, and bookstores her haunts. Yet it seems almost contradictory to say that in spite of the fact that Joy is quiet and unassuming, she finds arguing one of her chief and sometimes unpleasant failings. Longfellow's immortal lines: "Lives of great men all remind us, We can make our lives sublime, And departing leave behind us, Footprints on the sands of time," are her inspiration. To go to college is her ambition and to travel around the world one of her many dream castles. Her determination, however, is shown in her advice to the sophs: "Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today." More activities is her wish for the future of S.J.C.

"What S. J. C. needs most is a longer lunch period," says Javid, the young man who advises all of us to take life easy. It is evident that he does so himself since getting up late in the morning is his own application of this advice. His pet peeve is writing letters. A fellow of few words is Vali, who enjoys listening to music and taking pictures, in addition to swimming and baseball. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," is the quotation he prefers. "Time alone will tell," says he, referring to his future plans. Let's hope they turn out to be good ones.

Javid Vali

Eric de Becker, Jr.
Post-Graduate

Seventeen years ago this July 20, marks the birth of the baby of our class. Eric, a post-graduate student from Shanghai, also known as D.B., was christened "Bovine" because of his daily snacks during class time. A quiet, reliable fellow, and very good with his pen, he is one of the main editors of our school paper. "A horse, a horse, my kingdom for a horse," which he quotes from Shakespeare, seems to be his favorite saying. D.B. plans to attend a university, and then take up Law, maybe. Photography is his hobby. Beware: He may take a snap of you unawares. Other interests of his are stamp collecting, and dramatics for which he showed his talent as Marley's Ghost in the school play. Cricket, swimming, football and ping-pong are the sports he likes best; he wishes there were more of them in school. Eric thinks that the ways of Shanghai, his birthplace, are best and will always stick up for them. His chief failing is getting up late in the morning, often causing him to be tardy for school. He advises the Freshmen to work hard that they may someday become seniors.

If there is a problem you cannot solve, go to Carl, our post-graduate student, for there are good brains beneath that curly mop. Our prominent Editor-in-Chief was born in San Sebastian, Spain, on August 6, 1929. When asked for his future plans, he replies, "Why, not to get married, of course!" He is staunch at arguing, and will persist to the last. Being quite an artist, he has made many sketches, and good ones too! Often he is to be found drawing cartoons, or loafing when there's nothing better to do. Carlos, also known as "Tortue", plays on both the soccer and basketball teams. His chief failing is pride; his pet peeve, not being able to find his own pockets in a crowded train. "No such thing as a favorite quotation," says this young man of many abilities.

Carlos Kaoru Ogimi

John Elliott Spear
Post-Graduate

An easy-going fellow is our Jack an ambitious post-graduate student, whose future plan is to attend the United States Naval Academy. From "Sea Fever" he quotes the following line which evidently seems to be his favorite: "I must down to the Sea again." "Seafaring Jack," as he is called by his friends, was born in Hong-Kong, on May 28, 1930. Playing musical instruments, such as the accordion, building models and studying ships are his hobbies. Although he came to Japan only this year and found himself at St. Joseph's three days later, still he wholeheartedly fitted in with our S.J.C. crowd. Good Luck! Jack, in your future seafaring endeavors.

SENIOR EXCURSION MEMORIES

1. Million dollar smiles from.... 2. Our last time together. 3. Who but our photographer himself. 4. Gosh! The camera's still OK. 5. Father Karl—to whom we owe a deep debt of gratitude. 6. Mountain de-climbers in stride. 7. Hurry up! This is no soft spot. 8. Look out! She's ferocious. 9. Jack, our one-man orchestra.

JUNIOR CLASS

First Row: M. da Silva, R. Quastler, A. Ogimi, G. da Silva, F. Ikeda, M. Siquenza, N. Muhtasib, C. Suzuki. Second Row: Y. Osako, R. Elked, V. Ermakoff, S. Buss, F. Da Silva, Y. Ohmaye, J. Collins, E. Jerge, R. Schreck, F. Moss, A. Sidline, R. Tanaka, A. Tsuda. Absent: Nuriya Seday.

Class Officers: Yuk', Pres.; Sachi, Sec.; Genny, V. Pres.; Ray, Treas.

Here's a class with great promise of success for the future. Sparkling with intelligence, rippling with laughter, willing to cooperate, our hopes are high and firm that we'll be outstanding seniors next year. All hail! To the future graduates of '50.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

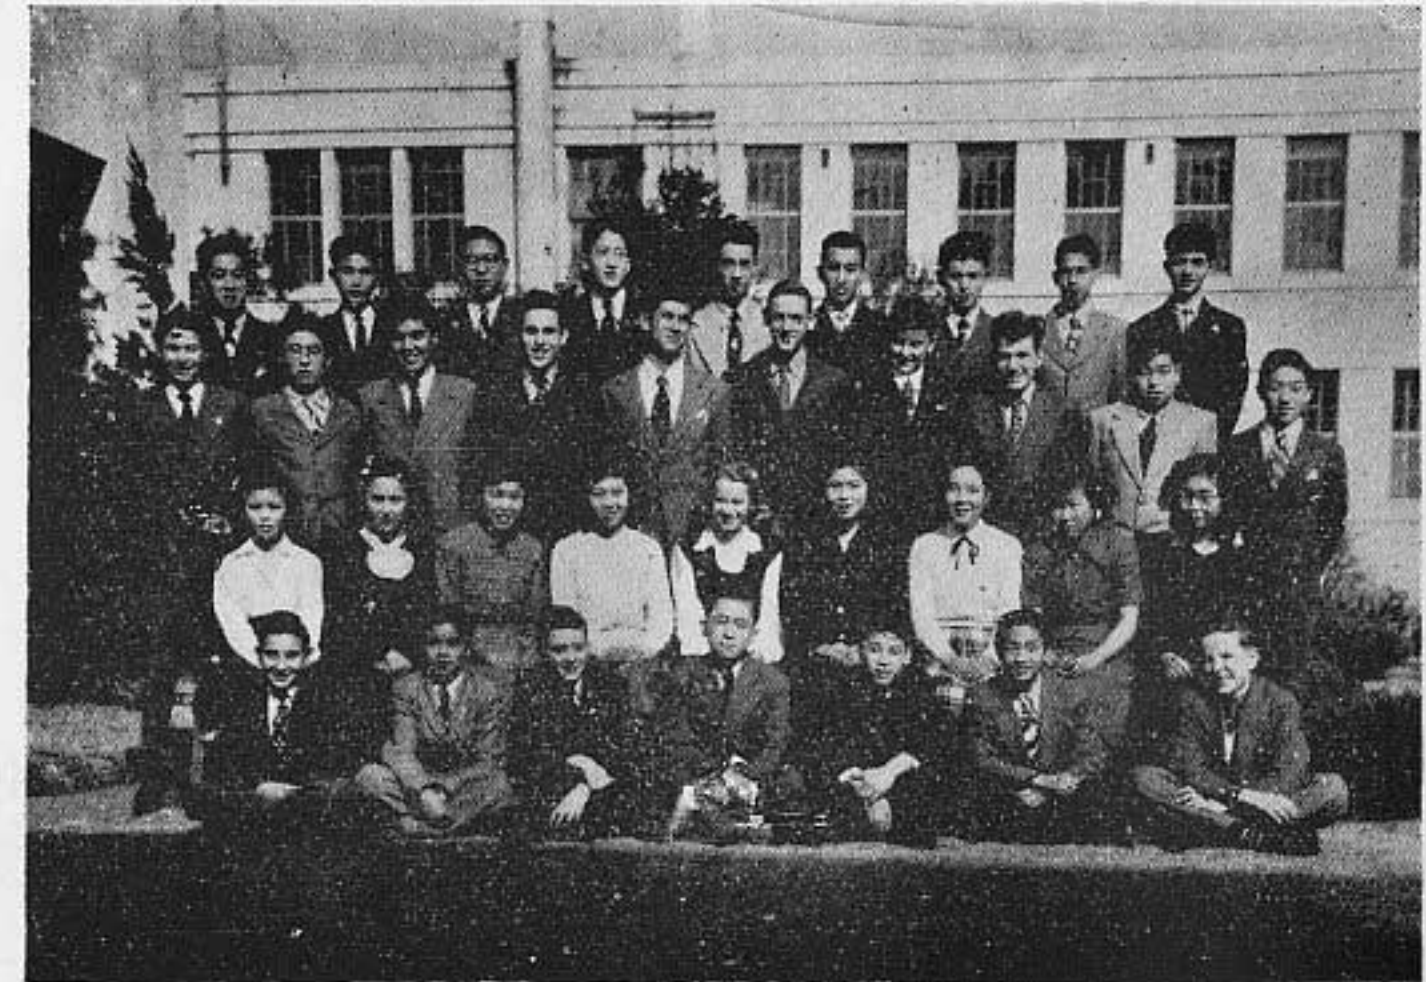

First Row: M. Furuya, S. Wahab, H. Osako, R. Nakasato, R. Bellikova, R. Matsuoka, N. Antipina, I. Markaroff, C. Sekine. Second Row: F. de Britto, G. Sano, A. Apanai, F. Uriu, K. Pantuhin, J. Donker, L. Kmetuk, M. Loes, H. Kuh, R. Buss, H. Milne. Third Row: M. Yamaguchi, W. Kondo, J. Nakano, J. Mayes, J. Okamoto, E. Lang, T. Nakajima, F. Gunther, T. Satake, J. Koyama. Absent: H. Lovejoy.

SOPHS OF FORTY-NINE

Let's sing a song of Second High.
 Their motto's surely, "Do or die."
 No matter what - they never shirk.
 "Believe or not," they don't fear work.
 Just take a look - they're full of pep;
 Each and all, in line and step.
 They're ever helpful, cheerful, frank,
 From President to lowest rank.
 So here's to the Sophs of Forty-Nine-
 May their banner ever shine,
 Though far and wide, they scattered be;
 In mind and heart - still S.J.C.

"DEAR DIARY"

September 9, 1948, our last week of freedom, then back to school! How we dread it!...September 15, school started today. Hmmm! Not so bad after all, although some don't think so, do they Georgie?...September 27, two new teachers arrived today. Wonder what they'll be like?...January 10, back from Christmas holidays. We hope that we don't have to take the year's work over again; we have forgotten so much, but after all everybody has...February 15, all of us seem to be really making progress in our studies...February 25, Brother Paul started giving us calisthenics. You get tired after eight or nine laps, not so Tony?...June 1, just think, school will be over soon. Oh boy!...July 5, Gee! nothing to do. Wish we were back in school. Oh well, we are looking forward to being sophs next year and being with the gang again.

EIGHTH GRADE

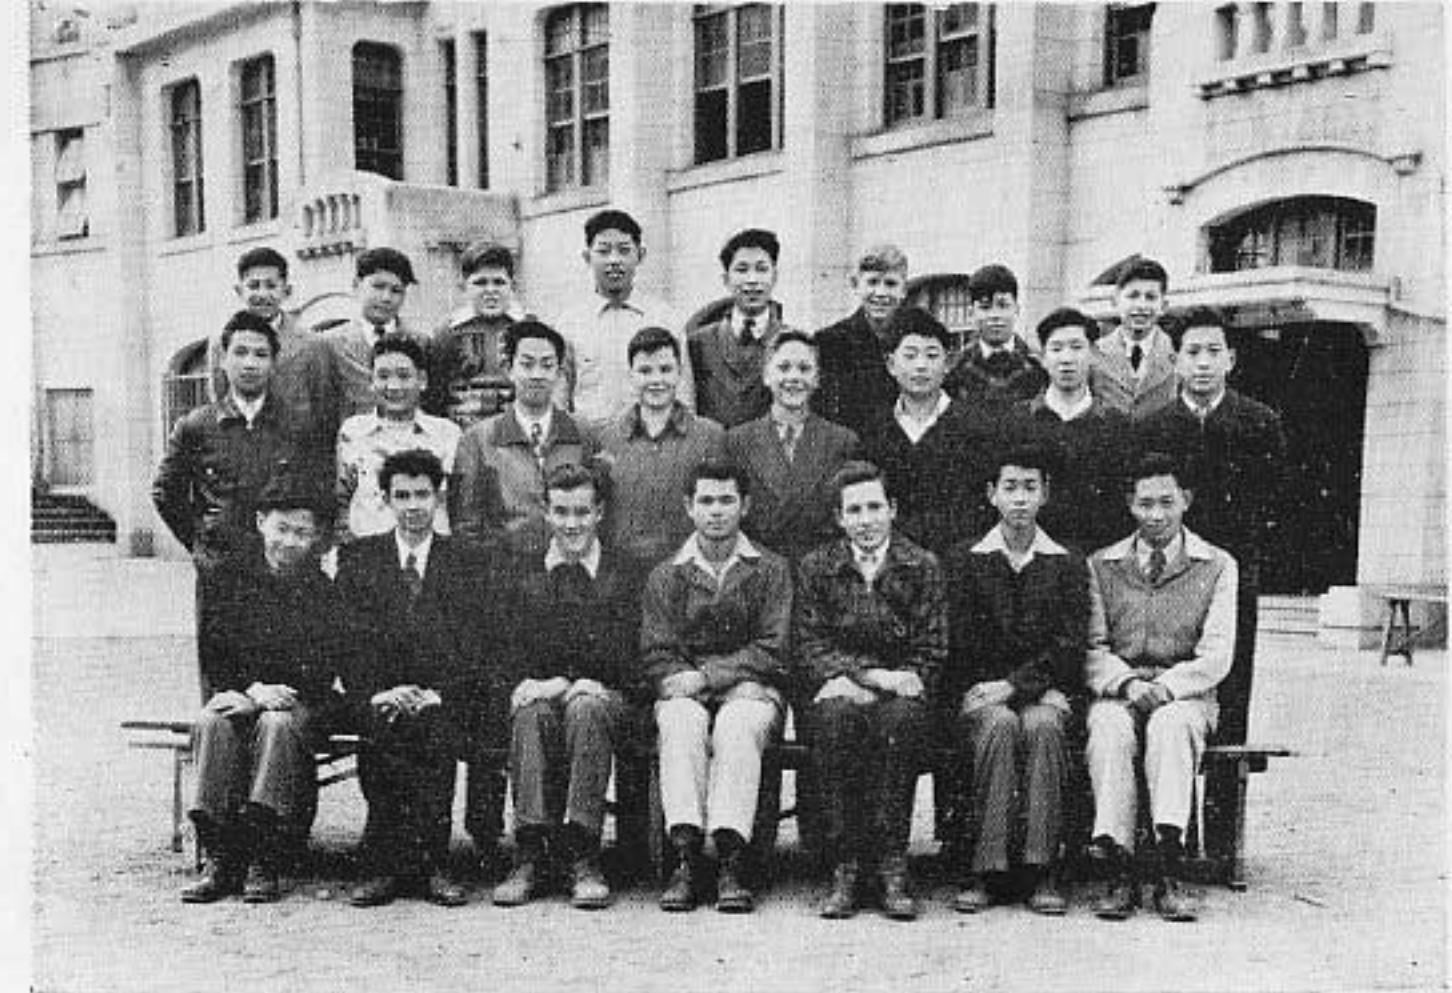

First Row: M. Tachikawa, J. Kuroda, R. Moftahdin, H. Schulze. Second Row: V. Lavrov, A. Sato, J. Da Silva, H. Hata, P. Owens. Third Row: K. Suzuki, J. Lipset, J. Lovejoy, K. Kitao, E. Lang.

How about another shoveful, Kitao?

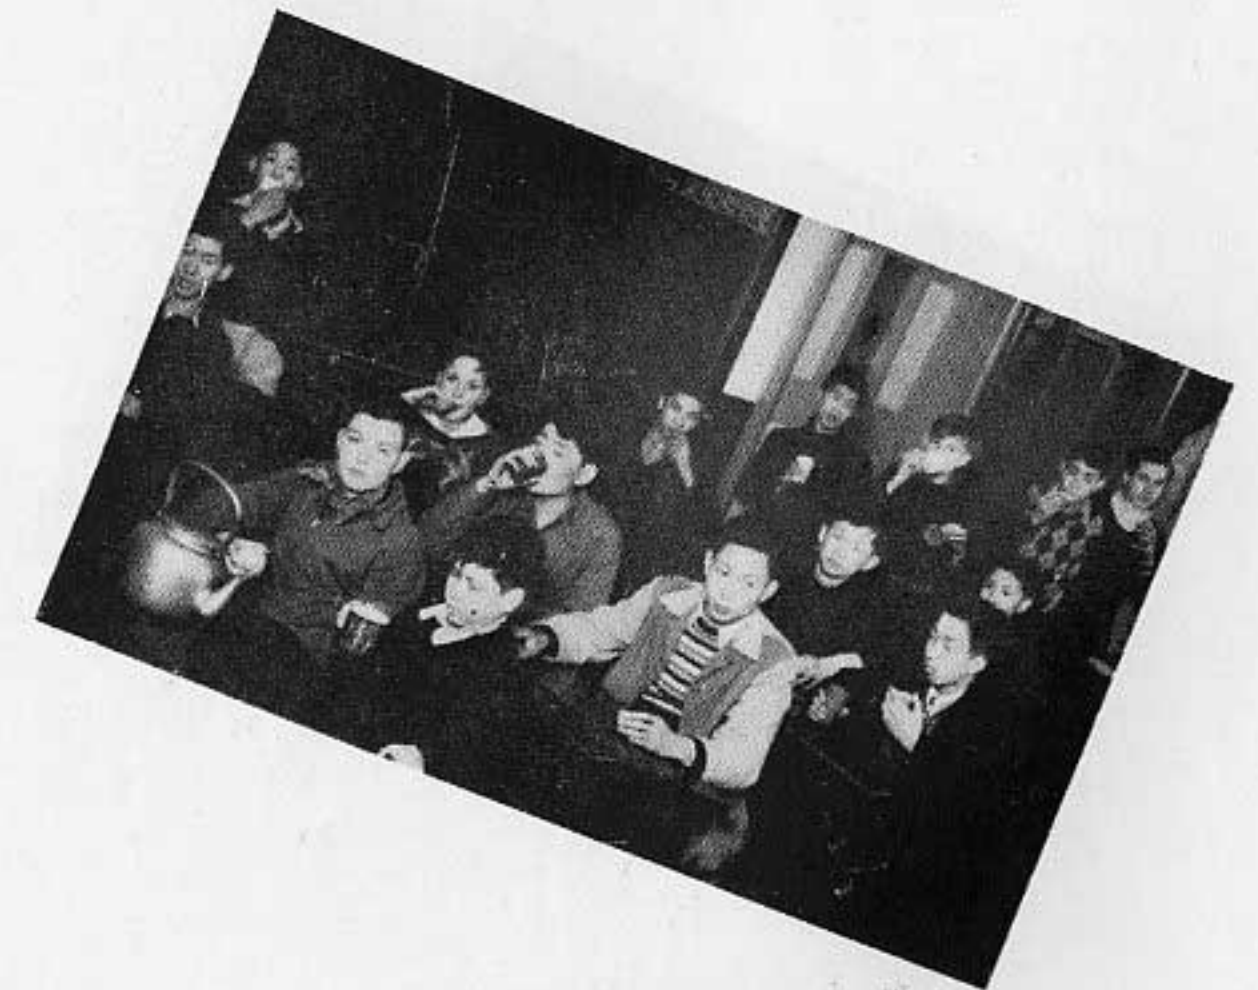

Sometimes these boys look down upon their comrades of the seventh grade with a smile of commiseration, forgetting what they themselves were a year ago. In addition to talking a lot, they are an earnest, cooperative class - a pleasure for anyone to teach.

SEVENTH GRADE

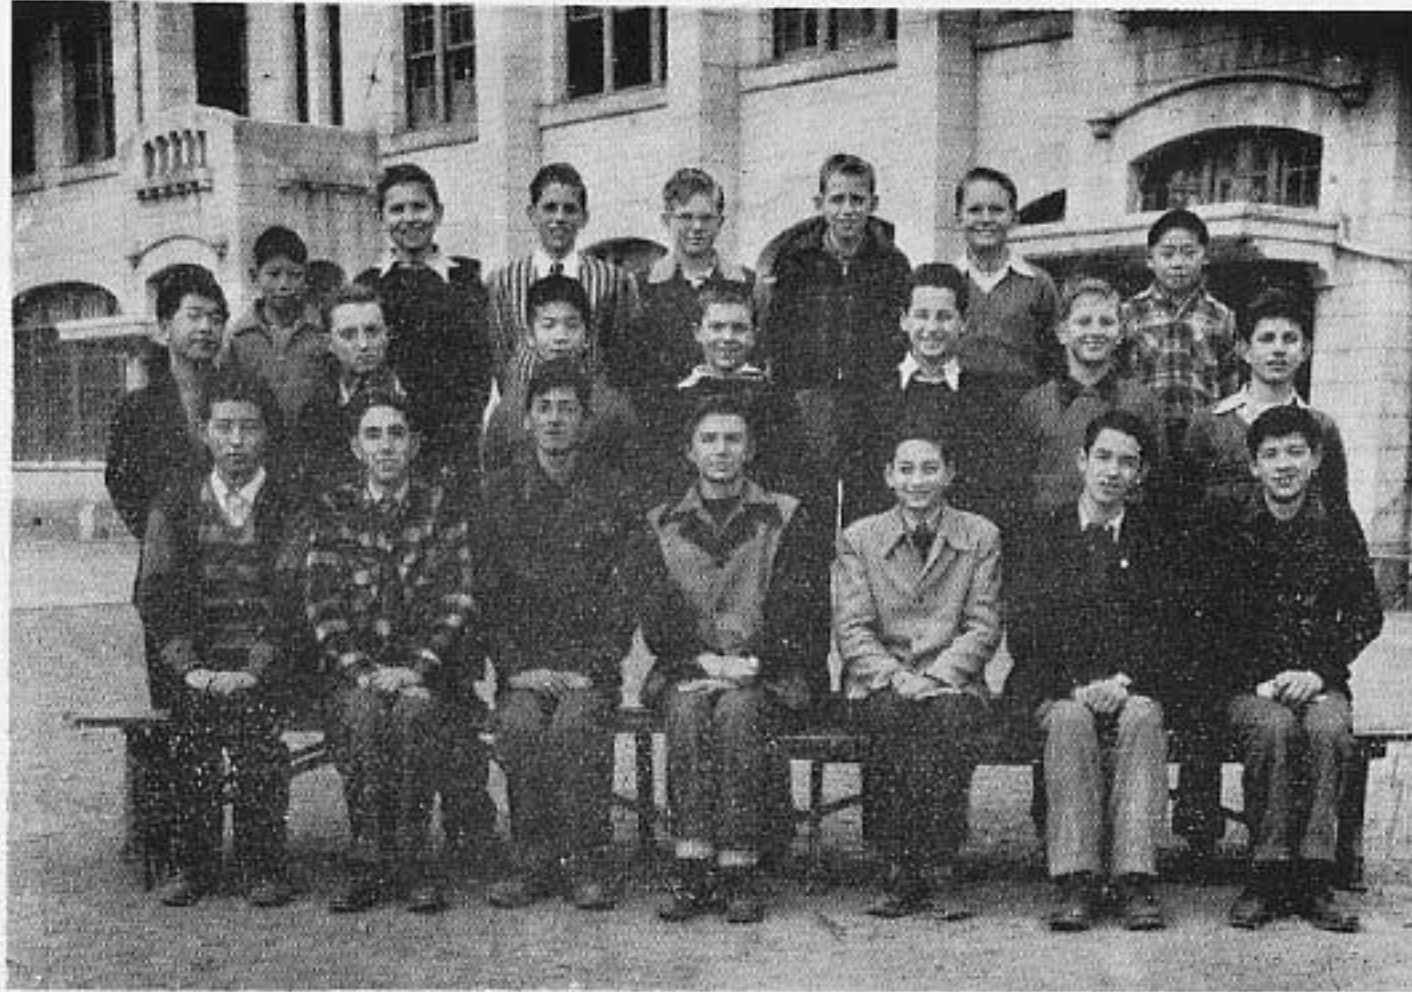

First Row: S. Ching, A. Yakshi, A. Kurbangali, M. Babushkin, T. Minenko, M. Yamaguchi, H. Honjo. Second Row: C. Loh, K. Nakayama, R. Takamura, E. Featherstone, D. Gardner, F. Nagashima, G. Hay, M. Yasukawa. Third Row: T. da Silva, L. Schneider, W. Collins, F. Oki, H. Arashi, K. Wahab, B. Fernandes, E. da Silva.

This happy-go-lucky class is wonderful in its up-hill fight to keep step with the eighth graders in branches so deceptive as spelling and grammar. The honor roll seems to be a goal unattainable; but some, no doubt, will get there before the school year ends.

Boy! Is this easy!

SIXTH GRADE

Getting a few pointers.

Always full of pep and overflowing with energy are these talkative boys, who promise to be models in studies, deportment and sports.

FIFTH GRADE

First Row: V. Pantuhin, F. Iwasawa, S. Agish, W. Da Silva, J. Hagen, M. Jaekel, W. Umbhau, I. Mizoguchi. Second Row: O. Sevaldsen, J. Donnelly, W. Duggan, S. Yusuff, N. Gorbunoff, G. Chang, Z. S. Chang, M. Arapoff. Third Row: J. Henry, P. Nakaike, F. Apanai, H. Metzger, A. Shetinin, S. Belonogoff, Z. Majid. Absent M. Field.

Some of our Math Wizards.

Good examples of school spirit, these boys are a lively, hard-working group, who are excellent in every sport. Being at times rather too talkative, they are always ready to make amends.

FOURTH GRADE

First Row: J. Oki, M. Lechwar, G. Pow, A. da Silva, J. Cheng, T. Sakagami, P. Iwata, E. Goda, H. Yanagishita, A. Yamada, W. Moss. Second Row: J. Kitamura, J. Hay, R. Kamikoshikimachi, A. Naka, S. Chang, J. Akagishi, T. Ohta, T. Chow, R. Onami, P. Higginbotham, H. Akiya, G. Cornu. Third Row: D. Moses, J. Takeshima, K. Saidgali, G. Belonogoff, H. Quini, D. Siedenburg, A. Santiago, A. Filatoff, H. Matsuyama, T. Yamakami, Y. Matsushima. Absentees: K. Fox, P. Levedag, J. Slechta.

Who are the good little boys who are silent when the teacher is absent for a few minutes? Why, didn't you know, they are the fourth graders. A very cooperative group, always willing to erase the black-board, to try to clean the room, and to fetch wood for the stove. Learning grammar is the chief weakness of these fellows. But when it comes to spelling, they can really put out their chests because "hundred percenters" are not uncommon among them. And for that matter, they like to get good marks in general, and consequently crowd the honor roll.

THIRD GRADE

First Row: J. Fukamachi, P. Kleinermanns, R. Kayser, T. Chang, J. Featherstone, M. Perry, R. Coker, R. Williams, P. Brumby, N. Vichit, J. Nishikawa, H. Umbhau. Second Row: J. Walker, J. Aoki, M. Matsuura, O. Chystiakoff, F. Metzger, H. Tomono, F. Ohta, H. Enderle, G. Arapoff, W. von Haupe. Third Row: Y. Kikuchi, Y. Okuda, R. Brasch, J. Yanagishita, A. Ishigami. Absent: F. Schoenig.

These "live wires" of the third grade are a happy, studious crowd, who are only serious when the teacher is near. The subject they are best in is reading. They are quite good at arithmetic, but poor in penmanship. Some of them, such as: Brasch, Kleinermanns, Brumby, Enderle and Ishigami, delight in telling stories; yet, not all are of this mind. Before school, and at any and every hour some like to take their little snacks. Then at the sound of the bell, out the class rushes to play; they can hardly wait for the ring. Their homeroom teacher, however, seems to be pretty well satisfied with his delightful little charges.

SECOND GRADE

First Row: E. Ebbel, S. Hong, D. O'Brien, C. Waters, M. Uno, W. Field.
Second Row: G. Mori, R. Kimura, Y. Belonogoff, G. Semenoff, I. Quastler,
P. Baclay. Third Row: V. Cotton, G. Drennan, Y. Okuda, E. Ohta, G.
Svenssen, T. Yamamoto. Absent: J. Bacigalupi.

If you could only hear us!

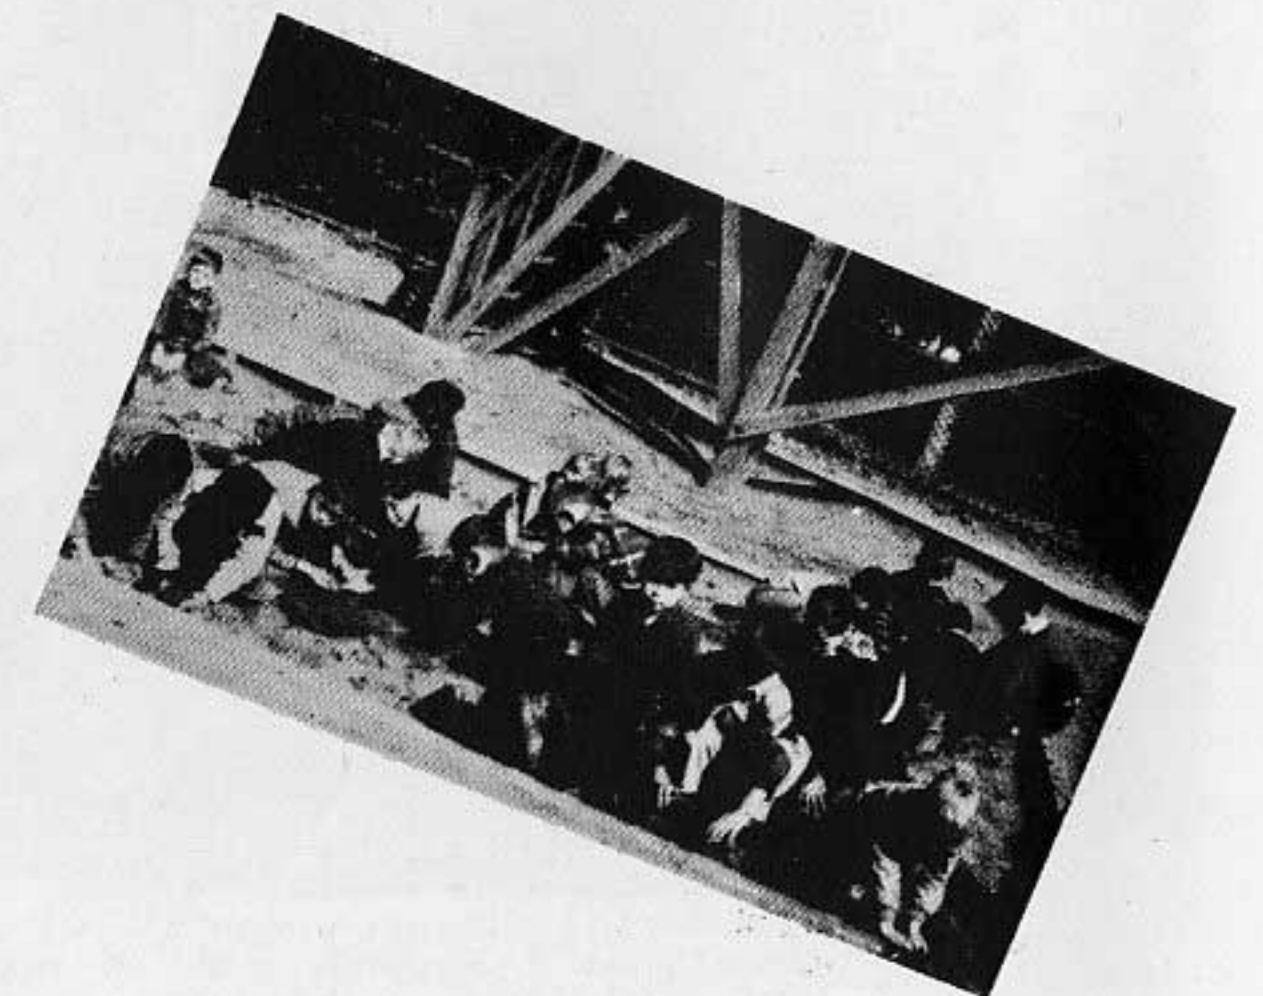

We are a lively, scrappy,
and loyal group. Our life at Saint Joseph's is both interesting and instructive.

FIRST GRADE

First Row: D. Coker, S. Kinoshita, T. Haar, K. Kumaki, B. Crane, D.
Beardsley, J. Mikos, W. Tickner, Y. Okano, H. Minamizawa, E. Svenssen,
J. Jacobs. Second Row: H. Anzai, L. Higginbotham, G. Lavrov, Tiong
Kwan Chang, J. Akagishi, H. Miyasaka, K. Kikuchi, Y. Ebizawa, M. Fujiwara, T. Sakagami, J. Nakabayashi. Third Row: T. Kikuchi, C. Kashiloff, O. Metzger, H. Sato, K. Kobayashi, H. Kludas, T. Shimizu, L. Savada, Y.
Nemoto. Absentees: P. Boyle, P. Williams, D. Eyton, J. Taneda, I. Saji.

Many of us first graders, who did not know a single word of English last September, surely speak less Japanese within the school grounds
than many boys of the higher grades. Our one defect, however, is "forgetting to bring along our chopsticks."

Kinda crowded here!

High School Honor Students

Front Row: R. Quastler, G. da Silva, F. Ikeda, J. Mayes, J. Ueno, A. Ogimi, C. Suzuki. Second Row: H. Osake, M. Furuya, D. Duggan, A. Sidline, C. Ogimi, E. de Becker, Y. Osako, R. Nakasato, G. Horio.
